Home is a safe space...

Damian and Joanne wanted a home that was healthy and safe for their family to grow up in. Their small boys now have room to run and play outdoors.

Home is stability...

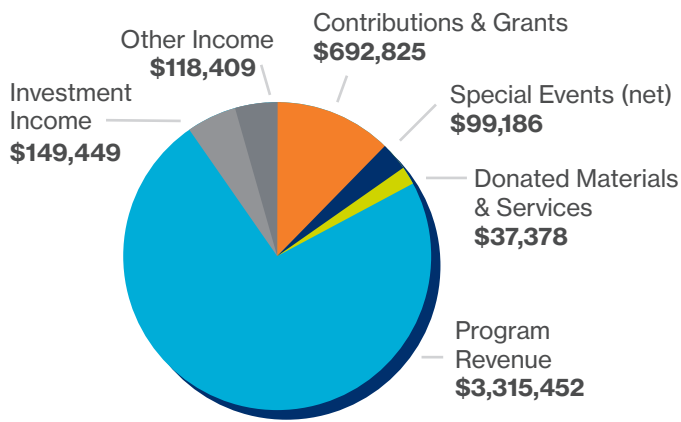

Evita and her children moved five times in seven years to afford space to live. Owning her home now means the kids don't have to move and change schools. They are making memories and starting new traditions.

Home is where you want to be...

Jen wanted out of the moldy apartment she and her daughter were living in. Her participation in Habitat's Almost Home financial empowerment course helped make homeownership a reality.
